Hi Folks –

Per our chat on the call last Friday, I wanted to give Cindy (as our only current incumbent) a chance to talk to us a bit about this project and what it will entail for us.

We can also use this time for the team to ask any questions they have, and perhaps Cindy will know the answers. For instance, Christian raised the question on Friday of source control for the project.

We'll use my CSRA conference line. The Skype invitation below is for EPA's Skype, so you will need access to that to join the screenshare. This has only been added in case Cindy has content she'd like to show us, but if you can't join Skype yet, it's not a big deal. We can always pass around attachments or URLs after the meeting.

Hi Ali

The types of questions Rakhi are asking are very junior - almost as if she has no relevant engineering experience. Rakhi is having difficulty finding things like basic jars even though every project always has files in different places – first thing an engineering learns in any programming environment from day one, be it C, C++, or Java. She considered it “wrong” location.

We both have the same emails from others, same source code, same access, yet she needed help with even what FTP, files, setup (although exclaiming it was junior developer knowledge out of the blue when I wanted to trace her steps when she said she was commenting out code – no developer ever in history of working with at least 50,000+ engineers has ever commented out production level code to make their own environment work).

Rakhi also makes requests for things which are obvious in nature (not anything complex)

I saw a discussion from Ed in Lead role and I thought that was somewhat odd considering I was placed as a Lead from the start and then downgraded and replying to Rakhi's requests on very simple things.

Anyways, those are my thoughts.

Hello Rakhi

Yes, I have had various projects up since last week. If you recall our meeting last Wednesday with Ed and Ali, I discussed runtime application access security and you moved the conversation over to database access security violations which you had experienced.

As for consuming this bypass, it's not a simple workaround (it is piecemeal) and it involved writing code (not setting configuration files) Once I get thru the necessary steps to run a stable version and the workaround can be applied to all applications, I can provide something which you can be used by others. Ideally, however, we should have an IAM web service to work off for our development purposes and I discussed that in our group meeting today and an EPA team is looking into that currently.

As for the credentials for geocode, it's

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

I will Skype you the password. Cynthia is working with the db team to have a development environment setup for us and so we needn't use the staging dbs.

Ok. Great! Do you have the app up in local already?

Would like to know how to bypass the IAM call in local? Also, the connection string, username/password for geoDataSource – in staging- if you already have figured it out.

Rakhi

As discussed via meeting today, yes, an IAM service is required but I have been able to bypass it on local during the interim. We may need to deploy an IAM server for dev purposes. Ed is aware of this issue that I discussed the other day.

I'm going to cancel this today – I'm not feeling well and will take the remainder of the day off to rest.

I know both of you have been collaborating this week which is great. I will be looking into the AppDev environment that Dan suggested on today's call as a potential solution to our logs access / control issues with trying to have a Dev environment on Staging. I'll keep you posted.

Any other questions?

Folks,

Just so it's easy to find in your inbox, here's the Agenda for today's (2/27/18) meeting:

Agenda

1. Review actions from last meeting.
2. Review status of requirements gathering, assessing and JIRA entry for all modules:

Three sources of documented requirements have been identified and are listed below with their current status.

- a. Excel Spreadsheet from Salient – All requirements entered into JIRA
- b. List of "capabilities" From January 2018 SHEM User's Forum Minutes – Need to be assessed and entered into JIRA
- c. Help Desk Tickets – Need to be located, assessed and entered into JIRA

3. Priority of Modules/Requirements:

From Emails between Rob and Colleen :

Colleen to Rob: So just to confirm, for FR, our top two requirements are auto-email and immunizations, and now we'll have some requirements for Oil Db. Would you say that the FR application and the Oil Db application are the same priority, or is one more important than the other?

Rob to Colleen: Confirmed those are two top requirements for FR unless SHEMD changes.

FR and Oil Db are the two flagships of EMP. At present FR has Priority OEM...the Agency is still in Response mode to the 5 or so disasters. When we meet with Troy and others the priority for Oil Db will be determined afterwards.

4. Categories for Issues in JIRA

Field Readiness

Oil DB

Incident Management Handbook

EMP Admin

EMBI

Equipment Tracking (will be decommissioned)

Sample Monitoring and Approval (SMA)

Local Government Reimbursement (LGR)

Miscellaneous /Top Level Fixes

5. Rob information to share with team, questions for Team
6. Ed information to share with team, questions for Team

Subject: RE: UPDATE - Potential for STOP WORK issuance for ISAH Task Order effective Midnight February 8th, 2018
Importance: High

Team,

Additional update was just received from EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt –

Dear Colleagues,

As many of you are aware, annual funding for the government expires at midnight tonight (Thursday, February 8, 2018).

Prudent management requires that we be prepared for all contingencies, including the possibility that a lapse in appropriated funding could occur. EPA's Contingency Plan for Shutdown calls for the agency to assess whether there are sufficient carryover funds to operate for a period of time in the event of a lapse in funding and a government shutdown. We have done that assessment and determined that EPA has sufficient carryover funds to operate for a limited period of time.

EPA will remain open on Friday, February 9, and Monday, February 12, 2018, in the event of a government shutdown. All EPA employees should follow their normal work schedule for Friday and Monday. We will be closely monitoring our expenditures, and all travel during this period must be approved by the Administrator's Office. Should the shutdown occur and remain in place through Monday, we will provide further updates on the agency's operating status.

Thank you for your hard work, dedication, and patience through this process, and for all that you do for the EPA and the American people.

Administrator Pruitt

Eric has confirmed with FEDSIM and EPA leadership that this direction is applicable to our ISAH Task Order, and therefore it's business as usual for Friday, February 9, through Monday, February 12, 2018.

Thanks,
Bo

Subject: Potential Federal Government Shutdown - Potential for STOP WORK issuance for ISAH Task Order effective Midnight February 8th, 2018

Team:

Once again we find ourselves on the brink of yet another possible government shutdown. When we faced this possibility the last time on January 19th, it was determined by the EPA Administrator that a shutdown would not impact EPA operations. As of this hour, we have received no such indication.

During the past few weeks the ITS-EPA III TO2 CSRA leadership has been working closely with FEDSIM and EPA on refining contingency planning. The planning includes the potential for issuance by GSA FEDSIM of a partial Stop Work Order in accordance with FAR 52.242-15, Stop Work Order for the EPA Infrastructure Support and Application Hosting (ISAH) order. Under a partial Stop Work Order, only those tasks/functions deemed mission critical would be performed to maintain critical services with diminished staffing levels. Details and definition of the mission critical services and requirements have been prepared and conveyed to the team lead management staff and impacted personnel. If there is a shutdown, we will continuously monitor the situation and work with EPA/FEDSIM leadership to understand the full impact.

- We will

Conference Line/Code / Ex. 6

 daily starting tomorrow (Friday February 9th) at 09:00am and again at 05:00pm EST. The daily status calls will continue for the duration of the Federal Govt Shutdown period.

What does this mean for you?

- If the Federal Government shuts down, there are certain functions deemed "essential/critical" and therefore will be supported in some capacity.
 - Designated personnel will be asked to continue work during the shutdown – very likely at the NCC campus, but possibly at an alternate location (CSRA facility) if the NCC authorizes remote work should be performed. In certain cases, these employees will be asked to work on specific tasks that encompass only a portion of their time, and will be able to supplement their remaining regular work hours with annual leave. Designation of an employee in a critical capacity is subject to change.
 - All other employees (not previously notified of an essential/critical function or role), should not report to work AND are asked to take personal leave (PTO) for the days that they are not at work.
- Employees who are on leave status are reminded that:

- The situation is fluid and if the government shutdown ends they should anticipate communications via the daily bridge line (and possibly their CSRA e-mail account or management contact).
 - Employees should put an out-of-office message on both their voicemail and their e-mail accounts that directs callers to contact Eric Toliver @ Toliver.Eric@epa.gov for emergencies only during the work stoppage.
 - Once a new Continuing Resolution (CR) or appropriations bill is approved, and the Stop Work Order has been rescinded by the contracting officer, employees will be advised that they are able to return to work (via the daily Bridge call in noted above).
- Guidance for Employees Taking Leave
 - If employees have PTO or Vacation available, they should use it during this time.
 - If employees do not have leave, in keeping with CSRA policy, they can overdraw their annual leave bank by up to 40 hours.
 - Advanced leave amounts will be accrued (earned back) once employees return to work.
 - If employees do not have any annual leave and already have an overdrawn balance of 40 hours, they should contact their HR Business Partner (Angeli Jaramillo @ Angeli.Jaramillo@csra.com) for further discussion.
 - Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)
 - In preparation for the last threatening government shutdown CSRA prepared a Frequently Asked Questions document to address some of the most common concerns around a government shutdown. That document is attached to this email.

Thank you for all you do to support our customers every day, and once again especially today. Please note that the planning and close coordination is actively ONGOING and NO stop work action has been initiated at this point. Please stay alert to e-mail and/or other communication channels for updates. You have our commitment to keep you informed as quickly as information is available.

Rob,

There's no actual hierarchy to those labels (so the order won't matter) – they are mainly being added as an easy way for us to easily query on / isolate groups of requirements tickets for future development Sprints. We just got that field added to JIRA today, and I believe Colleen will be updating our ticket repository when she has a chance.

Any news from Dan on the official EMP instances that are available? I still want to try and nail this down so that the team knows exactly what environments are / will be available.

Colleen,

Thanks for the Agenda.

Hi Colleen.

Is it possible to put Incident Management Handbook below EMBI?

Also the help desk tickets (Reports) folder will need to be sent via zip file... as well as Roadmaps, Requirements review, EMP Admin, EMP Alerts, EMP Diagrams, EMP EMBI, and EMP SLCM Role & Permissions Diagrams.

Right now I just sent the Data Dictionary zip. Enjoy. Thanks.

Hi Folks,

Below is a proposed agenda for our EPM Status call tomorrow, Tuesday 2/27/2018 from 2:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m. EST.

Please feel free to respond to me with any items that you would like to discuss and I'll add them and send out the agenda again later today (or, depending on when get the items -- and whatever may fall out of the sky today -- at zero dark thirty tomorrow morning ☺). Items in italics are not complete or in flux.

Thanks!

Colleen

Agenda

1. Review actions from last meeting.
2. Review status of requirements gathering, assessing and JIRA entry for all modules:

Three sources of documented requirements have been identified and are listed below with their current status.

- a. Excel Spreadsheet from Salient – All requirements entered into JIRA
- b. List of “capabilities” From January 2018 SHEM User’s Forum Minutes – Need to be assessed and entered into JIRA
- c. Help Desk Tickets – Need to be located, assessed and entered into JIRA

3. Priority of Modules/Requirements:

From Emails between Rob and Colleen :

Colleen to Rob: So just to confirm, for FR, our top two requirements are autoemail and immunizations, and now we’ll have some requirements for Oil Db. Would you say that the FR application and the Oil Db application are the same priority, or is one more important than the other?

Rob to Colleen: Confirmed those are two top requirements for FR unless SHEMD changes.

FR and Oil Db are the two flagships of EMP. At present FR has Priority OEM...the Agency is still in Response mode to the 5 or so disasters. When we meet with Troy and others the priority for Oil Db will be determined afterwards.

4. Categories for Issues in JIRA

Field Readiness

Oil DB

Incident Management Handbook

EMP Admin

EMBI

Equipment Tracking (will be decommissioned)

Sample Monitoring and Approval (SMA)

Local Government Reimbursement (LGR)

Miscellaneous /Top Level Fixes

Mobile

DB/Other Technical

5. Rob information to share with team, questions for Team
6. Ed information to share with team, questions for Team
7. Team (walk around) information to share, questions

Hi Ed et al,

Sorry! I don't mean to hijack the thread! ☺ I would like to clarify few points related to this thread.

1. We found the source code they provided doesn't have all the dependency jars required to build and run the project. They have added only 4 jars in EMP admin for example. It would be great if we have a way to know the list of dependency jars with exact version numbers for all the projects(We could take the latest jars, but we may run into compatibility issues. Knowing the correct version would save time rather than trial and error). If there is a source control branch with the code version in prod with all the dependencies, that would be good enough.
2. Would Salient instead be willing to answer our outstanding queries in a mail or shared location if we have any while we try to bring up our local environment and test environments?

Thanks,
Rakhi

Hey Christian –

I did reach out to Elliot (Salient) last week, to ask if he'd be willing to help us with a transition meeting or perhaps putting you in touch with his lead developer. I think you might have seen that reply, but just in case – he was basically unwilling to commit any time to help us transition at this point. Apparently the resources that used to assist with this work are already fully allocated to other projects.

I think we are just going to have to make some assumptions here and/or learn some of these answers the hard way, unfortunately.

I know you sent me a long list of software you will use, which was appreciated. There's probably a subset of that software list that'll you need on your local environment that will require licenses – that's the list I really need to reach out to Rob / EPA and get them started on acquiring licenses for you, though.

It sounds like (from Elliot's January status email to Rob) that Mobile development had been on hold for a little while. I would say that it makes sense to prioritize standing up the ability to support the applications initially, and worry about mobile down the road (in a few weeks).

Thanks

Hello Ed,

Any success on gathering the software list that was used on the various projects from Salient? Software list would need to include the name and versions of each release for both
Software installations such as Oracle, WebLogic, as well as library dependencies for backend, web, and mobile.

Also, we would need to look into getting licenses for the larger installations such as Oracle, WebLogic, etc.

I was wondering if it would be possible to schedule a knowledge transfer session between Christian Leckner and Rakhi Madhavan – Java developers, CC-ed here – and members of your Java team? There are some questions from our folks that I think would be most efficiently answered in a conference call / knowledge transfer setting. Team –

Colleen / Lawanna / myself had a good meeting with Rob today. He seems to have a lot of ambitions for this project and is happy to see some fresh faces working on it. He had asked me if I could put together a brief bio for each of the team members along with a skills matrix. If you guys can help me with this, it should be fairly straight forward. Please send me a few bullet points on yourself, including your experience with EPA (if any), career highlights, and strong skillsets. No more than 5-6 bullets should be plenty.

Thanks.

Hi Christian,

I think you're on the email chain with Elliot where I sent him this info, and he's already replied to say he would verify #1, but was very unhappy with CSRA and not willing to help us beyond that.

Doing what I can here – it's not much given the situation unfortunately.

Could you please have me validate Rakhi's requests for specifics? For example, I was able to find more than 4 Java jars that Salient had provided. This way we can be pretty accurate whenever we externalize with other teams, etc. Thanks.

Hi Elliot,

I understand that your team is fully engaged at this point. That said, we really didn't have an opportunity to transition this well on either side of the equation here and there are still some questions we really need answers to. There are a couple things we definitely need your input on/ can't ignore:

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

2. Would your folks be willing to at least answer our outstanding queries in email, or a shared location, if any arise while trying to bring up our local environment and test environments?

Thank you for your understanding here.

Hi Elliot,

My name is Ed Campbell – one of the team members over at CSRA on this project. I was wondering if it would be possible to schedule a knowledge transfer session between Christian Leckner and Rakhi Madhavan – Java developers, CC-ed here – and members of your Java team? There are some questions from our folks that I think would be most efficiently answered in a conference call / knowledge transfer setting. We can work around your availabilities in the next week or two. Please let me know if you think this is possible.

Sounds good Christian. We can certainly create a JIRA ticket(s) to capture this effort when we reach the point of development Sprints. I am not sure yet if Rob will prefer story points or hours, but regardless we will make sure that some of the time in each Sprint is ear marked for this.

Hi Erik;

As far as I know, there was no specific bulk delivery of "new WAR files" near the transition. The files on the server reflect the latest versions of the application code that we have received. Dan Ferko and the ADC team can provide you with information from the ADC notes as to when the most recent code was provided for each application. Dan, are you aware of any other code repository or delivery? Did the Salient team have a folder on the FTP server?

Thanks,
Paula

Subject: Re: Quarterly Upgrade Notice: NCC EMP Java Environments - Jan 22- 26 and Feb 18 (or 25)

All;

EMP application environments on Staging server Deliberative Process / Ex. 5 have been upgraded per the below notice.

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

Please test your application(s) and reply with any issues or concerns no later than Friday Feb 16. If we do not receive any information as to issues by that date, the Production upgrade will proceed as scheduled.

Thanks,
Paula

Hi Paula.

Thanks for the notice. Although you have Doug and Alison, I've added Paul C. for further coverage until my contract developers get their official start date. I also added EMP's Helpdesk email address so that this is captured until the contract developer can see it. With that said.

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

Thanks.

Subject: Quarterly Upgrade Notice: NCC EMP Java Environments - Jan 22- 26 and Feb 18 (or 25)

Rob/all;

Below is the standard notification for the 1Q Middleware Quarterly patching cycle. I was not sure exactly who should be included from your new development team, so I've added some of the higher-level people in the assumption that they will be able to pass this along as needed.

The updates for this cycle are very minor, and I do not expect EMP to have any issues at all, so this will be a good opportunity for the new team to get a feel for the process and to try out their access and testing plans.

Due to the Feb 18 date falling on the weekend of a Federal holiday, you may opt to have us do the Production updates on Sunday Feb 25 instead. Please let us know if you have a preference, and also please don't hesitate to be in touch if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Paula

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

If any of the above upgrades cannot be completed on this schedule, please reply as soon as possible. Please include in your reply the reason the upgrade cannot occur, and any alternate schedule for the upgrade, if possible. This information is necessary for security and audit records.

Please test your upgraded application in staging and reply with any issues or concerns no later than Friday, Feb 16. If we do not receive any information as to issues by that date, the Production upgrade will proceed as scheduled.

Thanks,
Paula

Hi Elliot,

My name is Ed Campbell – one of the team members over at CSRA on this project. I was wondering if it would be possible to schedule a knowledge transfer session between Christian Leckner and Rakhi Madhavan – Java developers, CC-ed here – and members of your Java team? There are some questions from our folks that I think would be most efficiently answered in a conference call / knowledge transfer setting. We can work around your availabilities in the next week or two. Please let me know if you think this is possible.

Kind Regards,

That's wonderful! NCC couldn't tell what was there and needed to ID which space belonged to EMP. Understood. Thanks for verifying!

Here is the status on the current EPA OEM work conducted by Guident and the documents for each app.

We are yet to hear from CSRA on where to upload the code (500mb) or to arrange any knowledge transfer meetings from our team. Please let me know if you have any questions

Recurring Tasks

Meetings/Deliverables

Bi-weekly ADC/Privacy Controls meeting (Wednesdays @ 2 PM)

Monthly FR SHEM User Forum (1st Tuesday @ 3 PM)

Monthly Help Desk Report

Monthly NCC App Hosting Customer Forum (3rd Thursday @ 11 AM)

Current Status/Initiatives

Field Readiness

- FR 12.3.1 – this is a small bug fix for some issues with the bulk upload training spreadsheet. It was deployed 1/8/18
- FR 12.3 was meant to be completed as 3 separate sprints, sprints 2 & 3 are yet to be authorized
- Requirements are already done for 2 & 3 and are currently sitting on the “Deleted Reqs” tab in the FR 12.3 RTM

OECA Non-FLETC Course Migration

- We are currently in user testing of 2nd batch of course record uploads to FR for Dan Weese of OECA/CID
- There are new courses, changes to course names, and several hundred new person training records being uploaded to FR
- Dan is currently testing in Salient CRGT Demo environment, when he gives OK Cindy can move changes to production

Oil DB

- v13.5.3 was released to production 1/8/18
- Scope for next release has not been defined

Mobile App

- We finished the app code and accompanying web services about a year ago but EPA doesn't seem to have a way to distribute the iOS version to EPA devices
- The web services have been deployed to production by NCC

- The Android .apk installation file is available for download in EMP but there are little/no Android users at EPA

Equipment

- ETM data supposed to be migrated to OARM's AAMS (aka Sunflower) asset management system, but no ETA as efforts were put on back burner due to hurricane responses (per Josh Woodyard)

EMP Admin

- No planned updates

LGR

- No planned updates

SMA

- V18 is in Staging and there are no plans to put it into production

IMH

- No planned updates

SRS Web Service

- No planned updates

EMBI

- OBIEE to be upgraded some time in 2018, BIAC will inform us when

Hi Christian and Rakhi –

I'm not sure if this is helpful (but I'm hoping it is) - I wanted to forward you this spreadsheet that is used on the ADC calls for the EMP applications. This group controls the deployment of EMP Module updates to production. In particular, there are some version numbers here for production – you might be able to compare these to what you have (if you have version numbers) to ensure it's the latest.

Hi Rob –

Wanted to go back to this email you forwarded from Elliot. Do you know if it would still be possible to have a knowledge transfer meeting between Christian Leckner (CC-ed here, our lead Java developer), and Elliot's lead developer? There are some questions Christian has regarding versioning of applications he will use, etc. that would be best answered in that sort of session. Let me know if you think it's possible to setup a conversation.

Thanks. Looking through his list, most of this is going to be stuff you can just download and install when you have administrative rights, which is good. Let me work on trying to setup a knowledge transfer with developers from Salient, and getting some answers to other questions Christian posed.

Sure! Christian has sent a list yesterday. Attaching his mail here.

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

( Its all free software)Software like WebLogic is licensed. Probably we can start putting a document in a shared location for listing all required software with versions.

- As Christian mentioned yesterday, it would be great to get a set-up document from Salient on how to set-up the servers and get all the apps up and running or them helping us to get the applications up and running.
- As it is an existing application, It would be useful to know the specific versions of the software they have used for developing the applications for avoid running into compatibility issues. ( sometimes new versions won't support old functions etc.)

Thanks,
Rakhi

Sounds good. You should have the admin access soon. As for that required software, if you need the EPA to purchase a license for it, I need a list of those so I can send them to Rob. Sounds like we'll want to get that list nailed down ASAP if it's going to keep you from updating the application or its pages. Programs that you can just download and install once you have Admin access to your machine (like an FTP client) are fine to do on your own.

+ Christian

Thanks Ed! Saw the JIRA. It's should be an easy fix. But we need to test the application that we are not breaking anything with any fix. (This wouldn't, but it's always good practice to see the app running with our changes before pushing it for check-in.) First step would be to get the app up and running in our locals. For that we need admin access and the required software.

Thanks,
Rakhi

No further action required yet Rakhi. What you can do, in the JIRA instance, is look at the tickets that are submitted (right now there is only one). It's a bug that we'll need to fix – if you and Christian think you are ready to do that, you can.

Hello:

Thank you for attending the Developers' Guild February webinar (open with Chrome) where we had multiple presenters, Kertis Henderson (CSRA), Michelle Ibarra (OEI/ODSTA), and Dave Ahern (CSRA), sharing information about EPA's Enterprise Identity Data Warehouse (EDIW), Open Source Software, and Atlassian Tools.

To subscribe or unsubscribe from Developers' Guild emails and meeting invitations, please send your request to developers@epa.gov. State and Tribal Partners as well as Contractors to EPA may subscribe to Developers' Guild emails and webinars.

February 2018 Webinar: Thunder Talks on EPA Tools and Technology

Lessons Learned

- Enterprise Identity Data Warehouse – Kertis Henderson, CSRA
  - The SOAP API to the existing WAM/Oracle system is going away, so the goal of the presentation was to familiarize people with the new system.
  - SOAP was available for the old Oracle 10g system. If someone is using SOAP, it will need to be replaced by September 1, 2018. The new system is the System for Cross-Domain Identity Management (SCIM),

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

- Open Source Software (OSS) at EPA – Michelle Ibarra, OEI/ODSTA
  - OSS is software that can be accessed, used, and modified by anywhere. It is distributed by OSS licenses.
  - In August 2016, OMB released a Federal Source Code Policy to:
    - Decrease the development of duplicative software by development teams.
    - Increase development and maintenance efficiencies across government and the open source community.
  - EPA's Interim Open Source Software Policy was signed in January. Highlights include:
    - Sharing EPA's custom-developed code.
    - Three-step software analysis.
    - Establish an inventory of new custom-developed code and provide the inventory and associated metadata to Code.gov.
    - Apply EPA's open source and rights license guidance for custom-developed code.

- Subset of Atlassian Tool Suite at EPA – Dave Ahern, CSRA
  - Atlassian is a tool suite for project management and collaboration.
  - EPA is working to setup and make a subset of Atlassian tools (Confluence, Jira, and Bitbucket) available at EPA.
    - This EPA is testing and setting up the front-end for a future DevOps production pipeline.
  - The future DevOps production pipeline will enable EPA to automate deployments into production.
  - OEI's Digital Services Office (ODSTA), Operations (OITO), IT Security (OISP) are working together to ensure the future DevOps production pipeline is functioning in an automated and secure manner.
  - Jira is a highly customizable issue and project tracking suite. It can be used for traditional project management, Agile development and service desk support.
  - Confluence is used as a knowledge base for project collaboration.
  - Bitbucket, similar to GitHub, is a code repository management system.
  - EPA development teams should not worry about migrating from GitHub to Bitbucket now; for now, it is business as usual.
  - Contact

Reminder - Skype Webinars

We will continue using Skype Meeting for our Developers' Guild webinars. Listening to your feedback, we will only share the presenters main screen and separately record the webinar with live captioning in a different window. Note, the live captioning link will continue to be available to everyone during the live webinar.

As a reminder, internal EPA staff and non-EPA staff (e.g. State and Tribal Partners or Contractors to EPA) will continue to have the following features with Skype Meetings:

- Standard access to the webinar's audio and visual functionality
- Live captioning
- Chat functionality during the webinar

Sounds good. You should have the admin access soon. As for that required software, if you need the EPA to purchase a license for it, I need a list of those so I can send them to Rob. Sounds like we'll want to get that list nailed down ASAP if it's going to keep you from updating the application or its pages. Programs that you can just download and install once you have Admin access to your machine (like an FTP client) are fine to do on your own.

Thanks Ed! Saw the JIRA. It's should be an easy fix. But we need to test the application that we are not breaking anything with any fix. (This wouldn't, but it's always good practice to see the app running with our changes before pushing it for check-in.) First step would be to get the app up and running in our locals. For that we need admin access and the required software.

Thanks,
Rakhi

No further action required yet Rakhi. What you can do, in the JIRA instance, is look at the tickets that are submitted (right now there is only one). It's a bug that we'll need to fix – if you and Christian think you are ready to do that, you can.

Hi Christian –

Quick follow-up. I think what you need as far as the Developer machines, you should be able to get through the Oracle Developer client? Or SQL Developer? Do you need licenses?

We'll need to talk to Rob about having multiple instances on the Staging Environment. Right now, the only environments that we have guaranteed are your locals, Staging, and Production. But, with Rob's approval, I think we can setup multiple instances on Staging to meet the needs of the team. This warrants a slight increase of cost for Rob, but it is less significant than setting up separate dedicated machines.

I think you are also moving toward Admin access, correct? Sorry that it's taking a while – but that's something you will receive eventually.

P.S. – Apologies in advance for the day when I inadvertently call you Erik, because it's staring at me in the From: line 😊

Hi Ed

I think we should get at least one shared CSRA machine that we can use for development/QA/UAT environments.

To get us going on development, we would need licenses and software for:

Shared CSRA machine:

- Oracle (the latest version that Doug and Cindy are using)
- Oracle WebLogic (I can check that with what's on staging)

Developer machines:

- Oracle (the latest version that Doug and Cindy are using)
- Oracle WebLogic (I can check that with what's on staging)

The development team would need admin access to our own machines and I would need admin privileges for a shared CSRA machine. We requested admin access last week, and I assume it may take some time for them to grant us access.

Hey Christian –

I did reach out to Elliot (Salient) last week, to ask if he'd be willing to help us with a transition meeting or perhaps putting you in touch with his lead developer. I think you might have seen that reply, but just in case – he was basically unwilling to commit any time to help us transition at this point. Apparently the resources that used to assist with this work are already fully allocated to other projects.

I think we are just going to have to make some assumptions here and/or learn some of these answers the hard way, unfortunately.

I know you sent me a long list of software you will use, which was appreciated. There's probably a subset of that software list that'll you need on your local environment that will require licenses – that's the list I really need to reach out to Rob / EPA and get them started on acquiring licenses for you, though.

It sounds like (from Elliot's January status email to Rob) that Mobile development had been on hold for a little while. I would say that it makes sense to prioritize standing up the ability to support the applications initially, and worry about mobile down the road (in a few weeks).

Thanks

Hello Ed,

Any success on gathering the software list that was used on the various projects from Salient? Software list would need to include the name and versions of each release for both Software installations such as Oracle, WebLogic, as well as library dependencies for backend, web, and mobile.

Also, we would need to look into getting licenses for the larger installations such as Oracle, WebLogic, etc.

There are some questions from our folks that I think would be most efficiently answered in a conference call / knowledge transfer setting. Here is the status on the current EPA OEM work conducted by Guident and the documents for each app.

We are yet to hear from CSRA on where to upload the code (500mb) or to arrange any knowledge transfer meetings from our team. Please let me know if you have any questions

Recurring Tasks

Meetings/Deliverables

Bi-weekly ADC/Privacy Controls meeting (Wednesdays @ 2 PM)

Monthly FR SHEM User Forum (1st Tuesday @ 3 PM)

Monthly Help Desk Report

Monthly NCC App Hosting Customer Forum (3rd Thursday @ 11 AM)

Current Status/Initiatives

Field Readiness

- FR 12.3.1 – this is a small bug fix for some issues with the bulk upload training spreadsheet. It was deployed 1/8/18
- FR 12.3 was meant to be completed as 3 separate sprints, sprints 2 & 3 are yet to be authorized
- Requirements are already done for 2 & 3 and are currently sitting on the “Deleted Reqs” tab in the FR 12.3 RTM

OECA Non-FLETC Course Migration

- We are currently in user testing of 2nd batch of course record uploads to FR for Dan Weese of OECA/CID
- There are new courses, changes to course names, and several hundred new person training records being uploaded to FR
- Dan is currently testing in Salient CRGT Demo environment, when he gives OK Cindy can move changes to production

Oil DB

- v13.5.3 was released to production 1/8/18
- Scope for next release has not been defined

Mobile App

- We finished the app code and accompanying web services about a year ago but EPA doesn't seem to have a way to distribute the iOS version to EPA devices
- The web services have been deployed to production by NCC
- The Android .apk installation file is available for download in EMP but there are little/no Android users at EPA

Equipment

- ETM data supposed to be migrated to OARM's AAMS (aka Sunflower) asset management system, but no ETA as efforts were put on back burner due to hurricane responses (per Josh Woodyard)

EMP Admin

- No planned updates

LGR

- No planned updates

SMA

- V18 is in Staging and there are no plans to put it into production

IMH

- No planned updates

SRS Web Service

- No planned updates

EMBI

- OBIEE to be upgraded some time in 2018, BIAC will inform us when

Subject: RE: Project Dependencies

Hey Christian –

I did reach out to Elliot (Salient) last week, to ask if he'd be willing to help us with a transition meeting or perhaps putting you in touch with his lead developer. I think you might have seen that reply, but just in case – he was basically unwilling to commit any time to help us transition at this point. Apparently the resources that used to assist with this work are already fully allocated to other projects.

I think we are just going to have to make some assumptions here and/or learn some of these answers the hard way, unfortunately.

I know you sent me a long list of software you will use, which was appreciated. There's probably a subset of that software list that'll you need on your local environment that will require licenses – that's the list I really need to reach out to Rob / EPA and get them started on acquiring licenses for you, though.

It sounds like (from Elliot's January status email to Rob) that Mobile development had been on hold for a little while. I would say that it makes sense to prioritize standing up the ability to support the applications initially, and worry about mobile down the road (in a few weeks).

Thanks

Hello Ed,

Any success on gathering the software list that was used on the various projects from Salient? Software list would need to include the name and versions of each release for both Software installations such as Oracle, WebLogic, as well as library dependencies for backend, web, and mobile.

Also, we would need to look into getting licenses for the larger installations such as Oracle, WebLogic, etc.

Best
Christian

"All necessary libraries should be there. We cannot check the .zip files now because we do not have an access, but we included them .

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

If for some reason they can't find those libraries in a zip file, we can send them separately.

Another way to retrieve libraries is getting them from the production or staging environments. "

My name is Ed Campbell – one of the team members over at CSRA on this project. I was wondering if it would be possible to schedule a knowledge transfer session between Christian Leckner and Rakhi Madhavan – Java developers, CC-ed here – and members of your Java team? There are some questions from our folks that I think would be most efficiently answered in a conference call / knowledge transfer setting. We can work around your availabilities in the next week or two. Please let me know if you think this is possible.

Rob, Patrice

Here is the status on the current EPA OEM work conducted by Guident and the documents for each app.

We are yet to hear from CSRA on where to upload the code (500mb) or to arrange any knowledge transfer meetings from our team. Please let me know if you have any questions

Recurring Tasks

Meetings/Deliverables

Bi-weekly ADC/Privacy Controls meeting (Wednesdays @ 2 PM)

Monthly FR SHEM User Forum (1st Tuesday @ 3 PM)

Monthly Help Desk Report

Monthly NCC App Hosting Customer Forum (3rd Thursday @ 11 AM)

Current Status/Initiatives

Field Readiness

- FR 12.3.1 – this is a small bug fix for some issues with the bulk upload training spreadsheet. It was deployed 1/8/18
- FR 12.3 was meant to be completed as 3 separate sprints, sprints 2 & 3 are yet to be authorized
- Requirements are already done for 2 & 3 and are currently sitting on the “Deleted Reqs” tab in the FR 12.3 RTM

OECA Non-FLETC Course Migration

- We are currently in user testing of 2nd batch of course record uploads to FR for Dan Weese of OECA/CID
- There are new courses, changes to course names, and several hundred new person training records being uploaded to FR
- Dan is currently testing in Salient CRGT Demo environment, when he gives OK Cindy can move changes to production

Oil DB

- v13.5.3 was released to production 1/8/18
- Scope for next release has not been defined

Mobile App

- We finished the app code and accompanying web services about a year ago but EPA doesn't seem to have a way to distribute the iOS version to EPA devices
- The web services have been deployed to production by NCC
- The Android .apk installation file is available for download in EMP but there are little/no Android users at EPA

Equipment

- ETM data supposed to be migrated to OARM's AAMS (aka Sunflower) asset management system, but no ETA as efforts were put on back burner due to hurricane responses (per Josh Woodyard)

EMP Admin

- No planned updates

LGR

- No planned updates

SMA

- V18 is in Staging and there are no plans to put it into production

IMH

- No planned updates

SRS Web Service

- No planned updates

EMBI

- OBIEE to be upgraded some time in 2018, BIAC will inform us when

Ed,

Here is the info from the developer. Hope it helps

"All necessary libraries should be there. We cannot check the .zip files now because we do not have an access, but we included them .

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

If for some reason they can't find those libraries in a zip file, we can send them separately.

Another way to retrieve libraries is getting them from the production or staging environments. "

Hi Elliot,

I understand that your team is fully engaged at this point. That said, we really didn't have an opportunity to transition this well on either side of the equation here and there are still some questions we really need answers to. There are a couple things we definitely need your input on/ can't ignore:

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

2. Would your folks be willing to at least answer our outstanding queries in email, or a shared location, if any arise while trying to bring up our local environment and test environments?

Thank you for your understanding here.

Hi Elliot,

My name is Ed Campbell – one of the team members over at CSRA on this project. I was wondering if it would be possible to schedule a knowledge transfer session between Christian Leckner and Rakhi Madhavan – Java developers, CC-ed here – and members of your Java team? There are some questions from our folks that I think would be most efficiently answered in a conference call / knowledge transfer setting. We can work around your availabilities in the next week or two. Please let me know if you think this is possible.

Here is the status on the current EPA OEM work conducted by Guident and the documents for each app.

We are yet to hear from CSRA on where to upload the code (500mb) or to arrange any knowledge transfer meetings from our team. Please let me know if you have any questions

Recurring Tasks

Meetings/Deliverables

Bi-weekly ADC/Privacy Controls meeting (Wednesdays @ 2 PM)

Monthly FR SHEM User Forum (1st Tuesday @ 3 PM)

Monthly Help Desk Report

Monthly NCC App Hosting Customer Forum (3rd Thursday @ 11 AM)

Current Status/Initiatives

Field Readiness

- FR 12.3.1 – this is a small bug fix for some issues with the bulk upload training spreadsheet. It was deployed 1/8/18
- FR 12.3 was meant to be completed as 3 separate sprints, sprints 2 & 3 are yet to be authorized
- Requirements are already done for 2 & 3 and are currently sitting on the “Deleted Reqs” tab in the FR 12.3 RTM

OECA Non-FLETC Course Migration

- We are currently in user testing of 2nd batch of course record uploads to FR for Dan Weese of OECA/CID
- There are new courses, changes to course names, and several hundred new person training records being uploaded to FR
- Dan is currently testing in Salient CRGT Demo environment, when he gives OK Cindy can move changes to production

Oil DB

- v13.5.3 was released to production 1/8/18
- Scope for next release has not been defined

Mobile App

- We finished the app code and accompanying web services about a year ago but EPA doesn't seem to have a way to distribute the iOS version to EPA devices
- The web services have been deployed to production by NCC

- The Android .apk installation file is available for download in EMP but there are little/no Android users at EPA

Equipment

- ETM data supposed to be migrated to OARM's AAMS (aka Sunflower) asset management system, but no ETA as efforts were put on back burner due to hurricane responses (per Josh Woodyard)

EMP Admin

- No planned updates

LGR

- No planned updates

SMA

- V18 is in Staging and there are no plans to put it into production

IMH

- No planned updates

SRS Web Service

- No planned updates

EMBI

- OBIEE to be upgraded some time in 2018, BIAC will inform us when

Hey Christian –

I did reach out to Elliot (Salient) last week, to ask if he'd be willing to help us with a transition meeting or perhaps putting you in touch with his lead developer. I think you might have seen that reply, but just in case – he was basically unwilling to commit any time to help us transition at this point. Apparently the resources that used to assist with this work are already fully allocated to other projects.

I think we are just going to have to make some assumptions here and/or learn some of these answers the hard way, unfortunately.

I know you sent me a long list of software you will use, which was appreciated. There's probably a subset of that software list that'll you need on your local environment that will require licenses – that's the list I really need to reach out to Rob / EPA and get them started on acquiring licenses for you, though.

It sounds like (from Elliot's January status email to Rob) that Mobile development had been on hold for a little while. I would say that it makes sense to prioritize standing up the ability to support the applications initially, and worry about mobile down the road (in a few weeks).

Thanks

Hello Ed,

Any success on gathering the software list that was used on the various projects from Salient? Software list would need to include the name and versions of each release for both
Software installations such as Oracle, WebLogic, as well as library dependencies for backend, web, and mobile.

Also, we would need to look into getting licenses for the larger installations such as Oracle, WebLogic, etc.

Christian

Hi Team –

Following up to Rakhi's question on our status call today. We need to provide Rob a list of software we need that requires licenses to install and use. EPA will need to purchase the software / licenses for us and EZ Tech will install.

Please think about what you need and let me know. Once we've got a consolidated list, I will send it across to Rob for approval.

In the interim, these four files (in html.zip) have been updated. Until we create our own svn repository and have a working webserver, these files could be deployed on the EPA servers with the updates. We can wait as well until we have everything setup and/or access to the EPA servers.

Hello Ed

We can update the following html files:

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

We/I will need to be able to access staging and production environments in order to do so.

We/I can most likely do this before we have our build environment (and web servers running) and our source code version control (CSRA svn) since the changes are very minor to the files.

Thanks Ed! Saw the JIRA. It's should be an easy fix. But we need to test the application that we are not breaking anything with any fix. (This wouldn't, but it's always good practice to see the app running with our changes before pushing it for check-in.) First step would be to get the app up and running in our locals. For that we need admin access and the required software.

Thanks,

No further action required yet Rakhi. What you can do, in the JIRA instance, is look at the tickets that are submitted (right now there is only one). It's a bug that we'll need to fix – if you and Christian think you are ready to do that, you can.

Hi Ed and Ali,

The development team left out README files and Developer Guides from their documents list that they had sent us. Typically, a dev team provides at least a README.

As I am working on building the apps (lots of configuration on stale servers currently – Cindy will be able to help in some respects), I can update you whether this will be needed.

Hi Ed

In the interim, these four files (in html.zip) have been updated. Until we create our own svn repository and have a working webserver, these files could be deployed on the EPA servers with the updates. We can wait as well until we have everything setup and/or access to the EPA servers.

Hello Ed

We can update the following html files:

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

We/I will need to be able to access staging and production environments in order to do so.

We/I can most likely do this before we have our build environment (and web servers running) and our source code version control (CSRA svn) since the changes are very minor to the files.

Cindy – do you know who can provide access to the empadmin servers for staging and production?

Subject: Action Item
Importance: High

Hello Ed,

One of the next things that will be useful is for Paula to give a comprehensive overview of deployment steps and specifically outline each step for each application: empadmin, equipment, fr, oildb, and sma.

Paula's overview should include at least the following:

1. Outline a sample deployment onto Staging (for each application)
2. Outline a sample deployment onto Production (for each application)
3. Update the "Internal documents for new dev team" document. The current document is intermixed with common deployment steps and specific steps - it really should read as follows:

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

It's OK for Paula to cut and paste those common steps in each of the deployments but this way if there are specific questions that we all have, we can document them as specific notes to each application.

Could you help facilitate this with Paula or I can ask her directly but it is a work item that she would need to prepare and then present?

Hi Christian and Ed,
Thought of discussing few points.

1. With reference to Ed's mail yesterday, how do you think – zip copy or version control- Salient will/should be sharing the source code?

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

Is Salient's version different from that?

2. Regarding admin rights, I am yet to get my request approved.

3. How should we install the required softwares? Admins rights would be required to install anything or create folders. Should we create a EZ tech ticket to get software/tools installed or should we do it by ourselves once we get the admin rights?

Thanks,
Rakhi Nair

Hey Colleen,

Good question. I'm going to add Rakhi and Christian to this so they can see the reply.

I'd prefer that when a ticket is completed in JIRA, a developer mark it as complete and include a comment detailing the fix / update, and assign to a BA (or QA tester, if we designate someone to that role in the future).

Example would be: Rakhi completes a ticket; marks ticket in JIRA as complete, assigns to Colleen, includes a comment to say "Ticket is complete and deployed to Staging_Test environment for QA, steps to test include X, Y, Z" (if instruction is needed).

Sound okay? Any additional thoughts?

Swetha –

I wanted to forward you the below email chain – this has the details of the reporting Rob had asked us to put together. Apparently Steve managed to get this produced using his admin rights, but was upset that he had to separately export the data for each AAsip and Region, and then merge into one document. What he created is attached. Any chance we can build that report for him?

Colleen / Lawanna –

We may want to capture this as a new item in JIRA with the attachment. Also, do either of you know if we can use the EMP Admin Module to add new customers / modify rights / etc. as Rob mentions below?

Cindy –

Added you in case you have context or answers for this stuff.

Thanks Team.

FYI, I was able to pull this report using my access rights and I've sent it to all of those copied except you, Ed and EMP Helpdesk earlier today. Hey Peter et all.

Peter per our conversation earlier, I have re-attached the Field Readiness Users Guide and FR Getting Started Guide for your review and edification. PROD personnel are looking to have the following report created:

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

Also review the document for any needed updates/changes etc. Let me know if you have any questions or comments. Thanks.

Please advise how I get the "data manager" access?

In the meantime, I've attached the User Guide and Getting Started User guide for you all to read through. Hopefully it will answer most of your questions.

Hi Rob,

Thanks for your note. If it's an issue to have backend access, then maybe we can find a more efficient way to make larger data revisions without having to work through the interface?

However, given the limitations you presented, maybe we could alternatively brainstorm in the near future how we could make these kinds of changes that will be efficient but also comply with your contract needs?

Mr. Thomas,
I'm working on an analysis of these 4 major responses from 2017 and would like to illustrate how the RSC was utilized in support of these responses. I have the data from PRL (the resource management system) and I'm wondering if I can get a data pull from Field Readiness of ALL the active RSC Members from ALL of EPA locations (regions and HQ) to correlate with the PRL data.

2. Regarding admin rights, I am yet to get my request approved.
3. How should we install the required softwares? Admins rights would be required to install anything or create folders. Should we create a EZ tech ticket to get software/tools installed or should we do it by ourselves once we get the admin rights?

Thanks,

Hey Christian,

Unfortunately I think we can officially close the book on anything else coming from Salient. They are refusing to cooperate with any of my requests for assistance and the last I heard from Elliot was slightly hostile towards CSRA as a whole. We are just going to have to do our best with what's still available / what we can find, and document / make the customer aware if anything is potentially compromised as a result of lack of transition assistance.

Sorry, I know this is not what you want to hear. Federal Contracting can have its drawbacks and this is definitely one of them (an outgoing incumbent contractor doing everything they can to sabotage, or at least fail to assist, an incoming replacement).

Hi Christian and Rakhi –

I'm not sure if this is helpful (but I'm hoping it is) - I wanted to forward you this spreadsheet that is used on the ADC calls for the EMP applications. This group controls the deployment of EMP Module updates to production. In particular, there are some version numbers here for production – you might be able to compare these to what you have (if you have version numbers) to ensure it's the latest.

All,

Sorry I've been quiet on this thread today. Have had several calls / meetings with Rob and just didn't have a chance to put a response together here.

I understand the benefit of having all of these environments – but I have a feeling Rob will push back on some of these, as Doug mentioned – to try and reduce his costs. Typically development at the NCC occurs on Developer Local -> Staging (which also serves as Test, Demo, QA, etc.) -> Production. I know this is not ideal.

Doug or Ali, have either of you heard anything about internal CSRA environments? Are these even an option for us / something we can run up the chain and request?

What I'd like to do is setup a call between Rob and myself / Christian / Rakhi. Doug, I can add you as an optional participant and would love if you could also attend. We can talk him through all of these environments and why they'd be beneficial, but at the end of the day, I suspect he'll push back for cost reasons and we'll have to give up a few of these.

Let me know what you all think. I can try to setup the call later this week.

Thanks

Hello Doug et al.

The project will require the following environments:

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

I/we will need access to staging and production environments so I can view how the project is currently setup. Paula may be able to coordinate this. The alternative is to provide a complete project directory listing on staging and/or production environments.

Our team will also need a machine for dev (share) and qa (share) – this could be either on an EPA or CSRA machine.

Best

On NCC side, there are three environment:

Staging: pre-production deployment. For Java code, it is the environment to do security scan.

Production: finalized deployment.

Production training: same deployment as in production. It is for training user how to use the application.

Thanks!

Hi Rakhi,

Yes, Salient had several internal environment for development, test and demo purpose.

Dev: It was for initial development.

Test: Java code and DB script would be deployed in Test for QA team to do initial test.

Demo: It was for showing user what new feature and new function would be added in system. Salient had built a external access to Demo and allow user to test/exercise application in demo. After user approve changes, Salient would deploy same code to Staging and ask for security scan.

PM: It was mostly for testing DB script before the production deployment. I refreshed PM database with production export periodically.

Thanks!

Hey Christian,

Paula Childers (Childers.Paula@epa.gov) usually helped our Java team to deploy the code in staging and production. I included Doug in this email now.

Hi Doug, do you know if Paula is still in charge of OEM Java deployment? Thank you!

Thanks!

Hi Ed

In the interim, these four files (in html.zip) have been updated. Until we create our own svn repository and have a working webserver, these files could be deployed on the EPA servers with the updates. We can wait as well until we have everything setup and/or access to the EPA servers.

Hello Ed

We can update the following html files:

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

We/I will need to be able to access staging and production environments in order to do so.

We/I can most likely do this before we have our build environment (and web servers running) and our source code version control (CSRA svn) since the changes are very minor to the files.

Thanks Ed! Saw the JIRA. It's should be an easy fix. But we need to test the application that we are not breaking anything with any fix. (This wouldn't, but it's always good practice to see the app running with our changes before pushing it for check-in.) First step would be to get the app up and running in our locals. For that we need admin access and the required software.

Thanks,

No further action required yet Rakhi. What you can do, in the JIRA instance, is look at the tickets that are submitted (right now there is only one). It's a bug that we'll need to fix – if you and Christian think you are ready to do that, you can.

Hey Christian –

I did reach out to Elliot (Salient) last week, to ask if he'd be willing to help us with a transition meeting or perhaps putting you in touch with his lead developer. I think you might have seen that reply, but just in case – he was basically unwilling to commit any time to help us transition at this point. Apparently the resources that used to assist with this work are already fully allocated to other projects.

I think we are just going to have to make some assumptions here and/or learn some of these answers the hard way, unfortunately.

I know you sent me a long list of software you will use, which was appreciated. There's probably a subset of that software list that'll you need on your local environment that will require licenses – that's the list I really need to reach out to Rob / EPA and get them started on acquiring licenses for you, though.

It sounds like (from Elliot's January status email to Rob) that Mobile development had been on hold for a little while. I would say that it makes sense to prioritize standing up the ability to support the applications initially, and worry about mobile down the road (in a few weeks).

Thanks

Hello Ed,

Any success on gathering the software list that was used on the various projects from Salient? Software list would need to include the name and versions of each release for both
Software installations such as Oracle, WebLogic, as well as library dependencies for backend, web, and mobile.

Also, we would need to look into getting licenses for the larger installations such as Oracle, WebLogic, etc.

Best
Christian

Subject: Slack - Non Skype Team Communication for EMP

Hey Guys –

The web development team I manage with Ali uses a program called Slack, a messaging platform, to communicate. It's a bit more convenient than Skype because it can be accessed while off of the EPA VPN and has a high quality mobile application. It's also much more intuitive and easy to use than Skype is. I think a team room would help us communicate more effectively (outside of email). It can be downloaded here:

<https://slack.com/downloads/windows>

I will send each of you invitations to the Slack server we currently use, and a private room in it called 'EMP' where we can chat. This is not required, I just think it'd be helpful.

Hi Folks,

Adding Rakhi to this correspondence as well. She (like Christian) is also a Java developer and will need access to the code and necessary s/w like JDK, IDE etc for development.

She's also asked if there's a list of software she needs to install. Frankly I don't have any of these answers for her, so any direction is appreciated.

Thanks

Hi Paula,

Christian Leckner (Cced) is our new Lead Java Developer for the OEM EMP project (Rob Thomas). Doug told us that you're able to give Christian access to the staging environment and all the Java code. Could you work with him today to get that going please? Rob is more than ready for us to get started so this is a priority 😊

Christian, I included your "imetro" address on this email in case the "Erik Leckner" epa email address isn't you. Please let me know if I can drop the imetro email moving forward.

Thanks,

Subject: EMP Charge Code

Hi Team –

This email is mostly for my sanity, because I think everyone is all set here and already doing this correctly – but just to confirm, I wanted to double check that everyone has the correct access to the EMP charge code in Deltek.

Personal Privacy / Ex. 6

Cindy and Colleen – You will charge to a slightly different DB code.

Swetha – You charge to the BI variant of this code.

Let me know if anyone doesn't have access to their charge code yet and we'll sort it out / fix past timesheets if needed.

Thanks!

Subject: OEM EMP Transition Information - Large Attachment With Many Files
Attachments: Guident-OEM-Docs.piz

Hi Team,

I wanted to pass on the below correspondence and the attached file. It contains a plethora of documentation on our project from the incumbent, Salient. This file currently has a .piz extension; you will need to download it and rename it to .zip in order to extract the files. I have only given this a cursory look today – there are quite a few files.

Colleen and Lawanna – Deliberative Process / Ex. 5 would like you two to begin sorting these files into related groups, Deliberative Process / Ex. 5. The pages themselves can have a brief overview of the theme that links the documents, and then the documents themselves can be added as attachments to the pages. Deliberative Process / Ex. 5 is relatively intuitive, but we can talk about this / I can teach you two how to do this. The long term goal for you two will be to understand and digest this content in order to become informed project BAs.

Christian / Rakhi – Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

That's it for tonight, we'll be in touch tomorrow. Thanks guys.

Recurring Tasks

Meetings/Deliverables

Bi-weekly ADC/Privacy Controls meeting (Wednesdays @ 2 PM)

Current Status/Initiatives

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

OECA Non-FLETC Course Migration

- We are currently in user testing of 2nd batch of course record uploads to FR for Dan Weese of OECA/CID
- There are new courses, changes to course names, and several hundred new person training records being uploaded to FR
- Dan is currently testing in Salient CRGT Demo environment, when he gives OK Cindy can move changes to production

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

Mobile App

- We finished the app code and accompanying web services about a year ago but EPA doesn't seem to have a way to distribute the iOS version to EPA devices
- The web services have been deployed to production by NCC
- The Android .apk installation file is available for download in EMP but there are little/no Android users at EPA

Equipment

- ETM data supposed to be migrated to OARM's AAMS (aka Sunflower) asset management system, but no ETA as efforts were put on back burner due to hurricane responses (per Josh Woodyard)

EMP Admin

- No planned updates

LGR

- No planned updates

SMA

- V18 is in Staging and there are no plans to put it into production

IMH

- No planned updates

SRS Web Service

- No planned updates

EMBI

- OBIEE to be upgraded some time in 2018, BIAC will inform us when

Subject: Moving Forward on EMP - Roles and Expectations

Importance: High

Hi Rakhi and Christian,

It occurred to me that I haven't really spoken with the two of you about your roles on the project, how I expect / hope you will work together, etc. This is a little easier for me with our BA's (Colleen and Lawanna) because they are in the building with me – I apologize for neglecting the two of you.

First and foremost, I want to make it clear that there is no hierarchy between you two – you are both on an equal playing field as the Java developers for this project. Ali and I have discussed and agree that while the previous contract labeled a "lead Java developer" and "Java developer", we are eliminating those titles so there is more of a redundancy between the two of you. Our eventual goal is to have the two of you fully able to back one another up, in the event of a vacation or other leave of absence. We would also like to work it out so that you two QA one another (especially for release-level updates), and that's something we'll discuss as we move forward.

Currently, you report to Ali for 'personnel management' and to me for 'project management'. We are in the process of moving the two of you under me for 'personnel management' as well. That change should be taking place within the next two weeks. Ali will still be available if need be as she is my personnel manager, but otherwise you should come to me with questions in both arenas.

As far as Java development tools on your laptops; there are no requirements that we are going to push on you. As long as the end product is the same when it reaches the staging environment, you can use whatever individual setups and supporting tools you are comfortable with.

When you are both up and running with your administrative rights and local environments, you can both begin to pick and choose the O&M tickets you work on from our JIRA backlog. There is no priority of assignment (IE – Rakhi approves Christian working on a ticket or vice versa). Just assign the ticket to yourself in JIRA so that it is clear you have assumed ownership. Whoever is available to fix an item can fix it, sooner the better. When we start development Sprints, the three of us (at a minimum) will meet with Rob to select the scope for the Sprint. The two of you will be able to pick and choose, and agree who works on what tickets – based on your strengths and interests. I hope that we can evenly share the desirable and undesirable work evenly between you two.

Please let me know if you have any questions – and we can certainly discuss this further on the call with Ali tomorrow.

Thanks,
Ed Campbell
